

Indian Railways To Upgrade Vande Bharat Trains With Extra Coaches On Seven Key Routes

Victory of words,new Delhi: |

Indian Railways is set to introduce additional coaches on Vande Bharat trains across seven high-demand routes. Currently, 10 Vande Bharat Sleeper trains are under production, and the Railway Board has rolled out a new initiative to enhance capacity in response to rising passenger occupancy. As per the plan, 20 coaches will be deployed on seven busy routes, based on passenger load patterns.At present, Indian Railways operates 144 Vande Bharat train services, which have reported strong passenger turnout. The overall occupancy stood at 102.01 percent in FY 2025-26 (up to July 31, 2025) and feasibility for 2024-25 and further increased to 105.03 percent in FY 2025-26 (up to June 2025). The seven routes identified for coach augmentation are: Mangaluru Central-Thiruvananthapuram Central, Secunderabad-Tirupati, Chennai Egmore-Tirunelveli, Madurai-Bengaluru Cantt, Deoghar-Varanasi, Howrah-Rourkela, and Indore-Nagpur.Explaining the plan, Dilip Kumar, Executive Director of Information and Publicity, Railway Board, said, "The 16-car train will be upgraded to 20-car and those with 8-car will be increased to 16-car. Based on occupancy data for FY 2025-26 (up to July 31, 2025) and feasibility for augmentation, we have tentatively planned to expand three 16-car Vande Bharat services into 20-car and four 8-car services into 16-car."Under this upgradation, three routes - Mangaluru Central-Thiruvananthapuram Central, Secunderabad-Tirupati, and Chennai Egmore-Tirunelveli - will be enhanced from 16 coaches to 20. Meanwhile, the other four routes - Madurai-Bengaluru Cantt, Deoghar-Varanasi, Howrah-Rourkela, and Indore-Nagpur - which currently run with 8-coach trains, will be expanded to 16 coaches.

Dharmasthala ‘secret burials’ case

After sitting tight at first, how Karnataka BJP changed tack, took on Siddaramaiah govt

Victory of words,Dharmasthala:

The BJP, which has now demanded a National Investigation Agency (NIA) probe into the matter, had welcomed the SIT inquiry even as its Rajya Sabha MP and Dharmadhikari of the temple town, Veerendra Heggade, came under attack on social media over the allegations.The first indications of the party’s changed position on the issue came in the Monsoon Session of the legislature, where BJP Karkala MLA V Sunil Kumar claimed there was a “continuous effort to defame a Hindu religious site on the pretext of an investigation”.

After maintaining a studied silence for weeks on the alleged secret burials in the temple town of Dharmasthala in Karnataka’s Dakshina Kannada district and even welcoming a probe by the Siddaramaiah government-constituted Special Investigation Team (SIT), the BJP has finally begun targeting the Congress on the issue, accusing it of being part of a “conspiracy to defame the temple town”.The BJP’s change in stance comes after the allegations levelled by the whistleblower in the case, now identified as C N Chinnaiah, a former sanitation worker in Dharmasthala, could not be substantiated despite an FIR being registered on July 4. Chinnaiah was arrested last week on charges of perjury.

‘Mumma you're famous’: Shilpa Shetty reveals daughter Samisha’s reaction to paps;

Bollywood actor Shilpa Shetty was one of the biggest female actors and fashion icons of the 90s. Not only did she shake up the box office with her films, but also gave the history pages of Hindi cinema several performances and dance numbers to cherish. But the most special thing about Shilpa is that even after all these years, she continues to be one of the most relevant stars of the Indian film industry. Whether it's through films, dance reality shows or social media. How does she manage that? Well, in a recent interview on The Right Angle with Sonal Kalra, Shilpa opened up about her biggest critic and fan at home. Talking about her mother Sunanda Shetty, husband Raj Kundra and sister Shamita Shetty, Shilpa Shetty shared, “Critic toh sabse badi meri mummy rahi hain. Aaj bhi unko bilkul achha nahi lagta main blouse high pehenti hun toh bolti hain ki, ‘Yeh blouse mujhe achha nahi laga hai.’” Shilpa went on to give an example of an outfit she wore for Super Dancer. She explained, “So I actually, when I do something even today, I am catering to that TG, my mother. Ki unko achha lagega toh phir, you know, she's my audience. When she watches me onscreen, she really says it as it is. She'll call a spade a spade and I appreciate that. Even my sister for that matter. Otherwise, my husband also... I mean you know, now he's started... the first five years of marriage he didn't say anything and then after that (laughs) he was like, ‘Yeh nahi pehenna chahiye tha tumhe.’”
